Leftover Lamb What To Do With It

By Katharine Fisher Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Roast leg of lamb is fine on Sunday, and good served cold on Monday. But if there's any left after that, you're sometimes at your wit's end to make thrifty but tasty use of it. The next time that happens, try these recipes of ours.

Piquante Lamb (All recipes tested by Good Housekeeping Institute) Use Institute-approved half-pint measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

- 1 c. leftover lamb gravy
1/2 c. water
2 tsp. minced onion
2 tsp. vinegar
1/2 tsp. granulated sugar
2 tsp. chili sauce
6 slices leftover lamb
Salt
Speck pepper

Combine gravy, water, onion, vinegar, sugar, and chili sauce in a skillet and simmer 2 or 3 min. Then add lamb slices, salt to taste, and pepper, and heat, turning lamb slices occasionally. Serves 4 to 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe. Menu suggestion: For dinner, serve with sautéed potato cakes, broccoli, and gingerbread with foamy sauce.

Oven-Baked Lamb Croquettes 2 c. ground leftover lamb
2 tsp. minced onion
1 c. soft bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
1/2 tsp. salt
Speck pepper

Combine all ingredients and blend well. Shape into 6 croquettes and place in a covered casserole. Bake 30 min. in a moderately hot oven of 375° F., uncovering the last 15 min. Serves 4. To serve 2, make half this recipe. Serve with Mushroom Sauce made by adding 1/4 c. water to a 10 1/2-oz. can of condensed mushroom soup. Menu suggestion: For luncheon, serve with a beet, onion, and celery salad bowl, bread, canned peaches, and tea.

Lamb Curry

1 1/2 c. white rice
2 c. sliced peeled onions
2 1/2 c. diced celery
4 tsp. salad oil or fat
1 tsp. flour
4 1/2 c. diced leftover lamb
1/2 c. egg, beaten
1/2 tsp. salt
Speck pepper

Cook the rice in boiling salted water until tender. Meanwhile sauté the onions and celery in the salad oil in a large skillet until onions are tender. Stir in the flour and blend. Add the lamb, curry, gravy, boiling water, and enough salt to taste. Simmer for about 5 min., stirring occasionally. Serve with a border of cooked rice. Serves 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe. Menu suggestion: For dinner, serve with pineapple juice, buttered peas, chutney, and deep-dish apple pie.

Lamb Rolls

2 c. prepared biscuit mix
1/2 c. bottled top milk or evaporated milk
1 c. ground leftover lamb
2 tsp. minced onion
1/2 c. catsup
1 10 1/2-oz. can condensed vegetable soup
1 tsp. Worcestershire-type sauce
1 tsp. salt
2 c. well-seasoned gravy
1 c. water

Combine biscuit mix and milk, beat 30 sec., roll out on a floured board into a rectangle 1/2-inch thick. Combine rest of ingredients except gravy and water and mix well. Spread on dough, then roll up like a jelly roll. Cut crosswise with floured scissors or a knife into inch-wide slices, and place cut side up in a greased baking pan. Bake in a hot oven of 450° F. for 20 to 25 min. Serve with hot, well-seasoned gravy that has been diluted with the water. Serves 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe. Menu suggestion: Serve with baked potatoes, buttered string beans, cranberry jelly, and baked pears for dinner.
